SHUTTLE ENGINE BURN-OUT—Flames from an apparent hydrogen fire shoot from the top of the A-1 Test Stand at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County about 9:55 p.m. Tuesday, as Space Shuttle main engine exhaust flames, smoke and steam blast out at lower right. Rockwell International's Rocketdyne Division personnel and National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials were conducting a programmed test of a second long duration test firing of a research and development model of a Space Shuttle main engine when the burn-out occurred. The engine was throttled to 100 percent of rated thrust when the fire broke out 611 seconds into the test. The fire was snuffed automatically within seconds and the test stand bathed in sheets of water to cool the structure. Rocketdyne personnel mounted the stand within minutes of the incident to secure the scene and make a preliminary assessment of damages. NASA spokesman Mack Herring said late Wednesday NASA is continuing an investigation into the incident to determine cause of the fire and condition of the engine. The test stand was not damaged, Herring reported. The NASA official said that since the engine being tested is a R & D model, Tuesday's mishap is not likely to cause any delays in the Shuttle program schedule. No one was injured in the fire. Clermont residents preparing to block Waveland annex

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
 Clermont Harbor area residents are arming themselves legally to defend against an expected annexation move by the City of Waveland.
 A move to annex by Waveland may lead to the incorporation of the Clermont community, resulting in a third Hancock County municipality.
 Pete Lestelle, clerk of the newly-formed Clermont Harbor Committee for Home Rule, said Wednesday afternoon that Waveland Mayor John Longo and an alderman from that city have "threatened" to annex the area.
 He reported Clermont residents object to annexation which would result in increased taxes without necessarily providing the usual city services.
 A community meeting is planned for 7 p.m. March 14 at St. Ann's Catholic Church hall to find out what action the qualified voters want to take if Waveland decides to annex the area, Lestelle said.

The committee clerk reported Clermont voters have three options—to accept annexation, fight annexation or incorporate as the Town of Clermont Harbor.
 Lestelle said Clermont residents are conservative people who spend their money wisely and will pool their resources to voluntarily provide services at little or no cost to the community.
 He cited the community's volunteer fire department and paved streets as prime examples of that spirit of cooperation.
 "If Waveland seizes Clermont, it would increase Waveland's tax base and money borrowing ability. In most instances this is a land grab for increased tax revenues," Lestelle stated.
 He cited the difficulties experienced by residents in the annexed area of Bay CLERMONT—Page 5A

Ginn's only regret is 3-year contract

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
 James Ginn, outgoing member of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board of Trustees, said at a Monday meeting that the only thing he regretted while serving on the board was its December decision to give J.D. McCulloch, superintendent of education, a three-year contract.
 Ginn's comment was part of an address to the board regarding the Bay St. Louis City Council's recent decision to appoint Betty Diboll in his place as recommended by Mayor Larry Bennett.
 The outgoing trustee's term will expire in March.
 Diboll was serving as a Waveland representative on the board, but resigned Jan. 28 after moving to 304 Carroll Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

 Ginn said, "I had a desire to come back (serve on the board), but I have no argument with the mayor or city council—that's their prerogative."
 The trustee remarked he has always acted in the best interest of the school district and not for his own political gain.
 "I'm not interested in building a kingdom here on Earth. I'm interested in building character in this school district," he stated.
 Ginn said he always felt he acted in harmony with the other trustees, but commented, "Something happened in December so that I don't feel a fellowship on the board."
 He referred to the board's decision to GINN—Page 3A

Supervisors approve airpark proposal

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
 Monday morning the Hancock Board of Supervisors approved an amended proposal that will allow the Port and Harbor Commission to proceed with expanded development efforts at the industrial airpark at Stennis International Airport.
 Last week Roger Dale Ladner's motion to approve the original plan recommended by the Port and Harbor Commission died for lack of a second.
 The plan involves applying to the Economic Development Administration for matching funds to supplement a $502,140 Community Development Block Grant from the US Department of Housing and Urban Development.
 The HUD grant, which requires a $502,140 match from county funds, was awarded in early December, 1983.
 The original proposal for $780,000 in EDA funds called for several additional improvements, including resurfacing the airport access roadway and acquiring 169 additional acres adjacent to the airpark.
 Monday Port and Harbor Commission sion James C. DeBlanc presented an amended proposal which excluded resurfacing the road and decreased the additional acreage from 169 to 80.

 The amended proposal also includes construction of streets and utilities to the new property.
 Approval of the amended proposal was moved by Supervisor Bert Courge, seconded by Supervisor James Travica and unanimously carried.
 As a condition of the already-awarded HUD grant, 125 full-time jobs must be provided at the airpark within a year after project completion, or DeBlanc said Tuesday, by June 1986.
 Of those 125 jobs, 41 percent must go to long-standing unemployed persons, he noted.
 DeBlanc said one company has already made a commitment in writing to locate at the airpark and provide 125 jobs.
 He also, he said, has a letter from another company which states it will establish a facility with 175 jobs if utilities are installed.
 One of these companies, DeBlanc told the supervisors, is interested in the new property which would be acquired if the EDA grant is awarded.
 The airpark project as approved Monday includes sewage collection and treatment, elevated tank and well, stormwater drainage, acquisition of 80 additional acres, streets and utilities to the new property and a contingency fund.
 Total project cost for the HUD grant only is $1,002,650.
 Total project cost if the $780,000 EDA grant is awarded to supplement the $502,140 HUD grant is $1,560,000.
 If the EDA grant is awarded, the county will have to provide $279,860 for the project.

 If the EDA grant is not awarded, the county will have to provide $502,710 to match the HUD grant.
 In another matter, the supervisors asked Board Attorney Walter Gex III to obtain an attorney general's opinion regarding installation of culverts by supervisors for private landowners.
 State Auditor Ray Mabius indicated last month that public funding of such installations is prohibited.
 Gex said he has been told by Assistant Attorney General P.L. Douglas of Jackson that "there is no problem as long as you're installing culverts for drainage purposes on public rights-of-way."

 Every landowner with property that abuts a public road has a right to access, Gex noted, and agreed to request a written opinion on the subject.
 The supervisors also:
 Agreed to ask the Port and Harbor Commission to work with South Mississippi Planning and Development District and Gulf Regional Planning Commission in efforts to obtain funding for marina development in Hancock County;
 Reappointed John V. Ladner to the Hancock County Election Commission; AIRPARK—Page 3A

City judge cracks down on DUI offenders

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
 Waveland City Judge Aaron D. Adams sentenced two men Thursday to jail terms for driving under the influence.
 David E. Rothermel, 38, of 1136 Longo St. in Waveland was fined $1,767 and sentenced to serve 18 months in Hancock County jail.
 He was charged as a fifth offender for driving under the influence Feb. 5 and for driving with a license which had been suspended as part of a prior DUI sentence.
 "The last time he came before me I had a very strong inclination to send him to jail," Adams said, "but after a hard luck story I gave him the maximum fine and told him not to come back and not to get behind the wheel of a car."
 According to Adams, that was less than two months ago.
 The maximum fine provided by law for a third offense, which is the highest the law provides for, Adams said, is $1,000 for driving under the influence and $500 for driving with a suspended license, plus a jail sentence.
 "I gave him the maximum," Adams said.
 Charles Jones, 25, of Gulfport was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail and to pay restitution for damage to city and private property after he was arrested early Saturday morning, Feb. 4, following a high speed chase with police officials that began in Long Beach.

 During the chase Jones eluded road blocks at the corners of US-90 and Beach Boulevard and US-90 and Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis.
 He turned off US-90 onto Old Spanish Trail, then onto St. Joseph St. in Waveland, where he lost control of his vehicle, left the road and struck a culvert and utility pole.
 Mobile Medic Ambulance Service took Jones to Hancock General Hospital complaining of abdominal pain and suffering from facial fractures and lacerations.
 In Waveland, Jones was charged with failure to yield to blue light and siren, driving without a driver's license, driving with expired tags, driving with improper tags, running a red light, reckless driving, speeding 100 mph in a 50 mph zone and malicious mischief as well as driving under the influence.
 Adams said Friday that he sentenced Jones to a jail term when Jones said he could not pay a fine.
 "But when Adams realized preceding charges were pending in other jurisdictions—Long Beach and Bay St. Louis—he decided to let him spend his time in jail in Long Beach instead."
 Jones still faces a $500 fine in Waveland, plus $500 restitution charges to the city and restitution for damage to private property in an amount to be furnished by an estimate, Adams said.

One dead, one injured in shoot-out

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
 Two persons are in custody of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department following a double shooting in front of Amey's Grocery on US-90 west of Waveland about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.
 Sheriff Ronald Peterson reported that Louis Meyers, 50, of Lakeshore died at Hancock General Hospital.
 Kenneth Meyers, 42, also of Lakeshore, was shot in the left arm in the incident, according to Peterson.
 "Details are sketchy at this point," Peterson said at the scene Wednesday night.
 "We do have two people in custody who, according to witnesses, were involved in the shooting," the sheriff said.
 The shooting apparently resulted from a domestic-type quarrel, the sheriff noted.

NSTL to host regional junior high math event

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will host a regional 'Mathcounts' competition for south Mississippi at NSTL's Hancock County installation Saturday.

Mathcounts is a nationwide program to promote math excellence for junior high school students.

A cooperative effort of education, business, government, and the technological community, the program consists of a series of progressive competitions and contests at local, state and national levels.

According to NSTL's Marshall Jennings of USGS, coordinator for the event, students from Charles B. Murphy Elementary in Pearlington, Hancock North Central Junior High and Long Beach Junior High will be among those from schools participating in the Southern Regional competition Saturday.

He noted other regional competitions will be conducted simultaneously across the country with those in Mississippi being held at NSTL, Jackson and Oxford.

"Each school entered will be represented by one team consisting of four of its most outstanding seventh and eighth grade math students accompanied by one coach," Jennings commented.

The competition at the regional and state levels is funded by the Mississippi Engineering Society. NASA is a sponsor of national competitions.

Trophies for the NSTL competition will be provided by Hancock Bank.

The competitions at the regional, state and national levels consist of the same format, requiring eight hours to complete.

Questions will become increasingly difficult as the competition progresses toward the national level.

The competition at all levels will consist of five contests: written, team solution, individual solution, special-topic-written, and special-topic-oral contests.

Topics to be covered in the competition include estimation, computation, statistics, probability, measurement, geometry, graphs, numbers series, equations and others.

Jennings notes three teams are chosen from each region to compete on the state level where again three top teams are selected.

Four students will be chosen on individual evaluations to comprise a team to represent Mississippi in the national competition in Washington, D.C. in May, Jennings added.

Griffin certified Council winner

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

Political newcomer Gary Griffin of 814 Jackson St. should take his Ward 1 seat on the Bay St. Louis City Council at next Tuesday's meeting.

City Clerk Eddie Favre said Griffin will probably take his oath of office within the next day or so.

Election Coordinator Charles Gottschalk announced that the election results certified Monday evening after Saturday's election show that Griffin garnered 185 votes to William Hilliker's 145.

Unofficial returns had shown Griffin, a coach and teacher at Bay High School, with 174 votes compared to 136 for Hilliker, a retiree from a management career.

The unofficial results did not include 37 affidavit ballots.

Favre said 15 of those ballots were cast by persons who had no city registration.

"And we could find no county registration for two of them," he said.

The special election was called to fill the unexpired term of Gene Taylor, who resigned from the council following his election to the State Senate.

Space station planners meet in Hancock

Members of the Commercial Working Group of the Space Station Task Force met last week in Hancock County at the National Space Technology Laboratory.

The group has met at NSTL before, but this meeting was the first since President Reagan announced the development of a space station in his State of the Union message on Jan. 25, NSTL Public Affairs Officer Mack Herring said.

The group is made up of representatives from NASA headquarters and all NASA centers.

Richard Anglin of NASA headquarters is chairman of the group. Harry Guin, assistant to the NSTL director for program planning and development, is NSTL's representative.

According to Guin, the Space Station Task Force is developing a series of mission requirements for a permanently-manned U.S. space station.

The task force's working group is defining specific types of missions the space station would have, such as scientific research and technology.

"The Commercial Working Group is identifying missions in which U.S. industries would be interested," Guin said.

"With the emphasis on commercial uses of space, the working group will be formulating a major part of the uses of a space station to allow as much commercial venture in space as possible, he said.

HOW THE NEW HOSPITAL WILL BE FINANCED...

The construction of a new hospital for Hancock County has been much in the news lately. In order to clarify many points and questions being asked by the public, the Hancock

General Hospital Board of Trustees would like to take this means to answer some of these questions.

Did You Know

1. The replacement facility for Hancock General Hospital will be financed through tax exempt industrial revenue bonds. These bonds will be sold to individual investors through J.C. Bradford & Company of Nashville, Tennessee, investment bankers.

2. The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will authorize the sale of the bonds, and the bonds will be repaid through revenue produced by Hancock General Hospital. The county will not be responsible for the debt payments.

3. The industrial revenue bonds will have no effect on the tax base of the county; therefore, this project will not require an increase in property taxes.

4. The total cost of the new facility, which will have 60 beds and approximately 55,000-65,000 square feet, will cost an estimated $8-10 million. The debt will have a 25-30 year term.

5. According to a sensitivity study done in April, 1983, by Ernst & Whinney, an accounting firm from New Orleans, if our patient days remain the same, 12,397, through 1986, Hancock General will be able to meet the indebtedness payments. Of course, an increase in patient days with a new facility is imminent, and will produce additional revenue.

6. Ernst & Whinney will also complete a financial feasibility study which will project the ability of Hancock General to repay the debt.

renew McCullough's contract for three years instead of one year.

Ginn reiterated a statement he made at a Jan. 9 meeting that the board in an executive session, a portion of a meeting closed to the general public and press, last year had decided to renew the contract for one year.

The outgoing trustee noted in December he voted against the three-year proposal offered in a surprise motion by Trustee Cyril Glover and seconded by Diboll.

Trustee Reginald Robinson voted in favor of the measure and Walter Turcotte as board president did not vote in the matter.

Ginn said Monday, "I did not vote against Mr. McCullough."

McCullough stated, "Thank you." Ginn continued, "The board agreed to extend the contract for one year. I voted against a plan I didn't agree to. Naturally, when this thing came on the agenda, it surprised me."

He noted Glover's concern earlier in the Monday meeting regarding a tabled suggestion by Turcotte to renew administrator contracts for a two-year period 'to give them a little security.'

Glover said the two-year contracts could 'cause a lot of adversity' among school district employees.

Regarding the McCullough contract, Ginn stated, "That's the only thing I look back on with regret."

In reference to the Bay council's decision, Ginn said he was disappointed but stated, "The reason as to why, I'd don't care. I thank you for your time and God bless you."

Turcotte told Ginn, "Thank you for your servitude on the board for the last five years." The board president then called for adjournment of the meeting.

As observers and board members were leaving the meeting room, school patron Lana Noonan said to McCullough, "What I'm concerned about is that there are now no board members with children in this school district."

McCullough asked, "What do you mean?"

She clarified her statement by adding that no board members have children attending classes at schools in the public school district.

Ginn served as one of three school board members appointed by the Bay council. The remaining two trustees are elected and represent areas of the district outside of the Bay St. Louis city limits.

Diboll's resignation was submitted too late for a March 3 election, so her position will be filled by a Bay council appointee who will serve until March 1985.

Bay raid nets $60,000 in stolen goods

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Hancock County Sheriff Department officials are attempting to locate the owners of some $60,000 worth of stolen goods recovered in a Feb. 3 raid on a Bay St. Louis warehouse.

Rodney J. Signorelli, arrested last Friday and charged with receiving the stolen goods is presently being held in Louisiana but may return to Hancock County without fighting extradition; Hancock County Investigator Alvin Ladner said Tuesday.

Ladner said Signorelli's attorney told him Monday that Signorelli may decide to waive extradition.

Signorelli, 31, was a resident of 105 St.

Charles St., Bay St. Louis, but now lives in Jefferson Parish where he was arrested.

For about six months he has been renting a metal warehouse located between Ulman Avenue and the US-90 service road, Ladner said.

According to Ladner the warehouse is owned by Dave McDonald or one of his brothers.

Two weeks ago, Ladner said, investigators from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Bay St. Louis Police Department, Louisiana State Police and the Mississippi Highway Patrol seized a Case backhoe, a Fiat automobile and two motorcycle engines from the warehouse.

The backhoe and car had been stolen in Jefferson Parish.

The backhoe, Ladner said, was stolen from a service station located at the corner of Roosevelt and Veterans Boulevard in Kenner, La.

The identification numbers had been removed from the motorcycle engines but Ladner said officials were able to 'lift' one of the numbers with acid and are now attempting to locate the owner through the manufacturer.

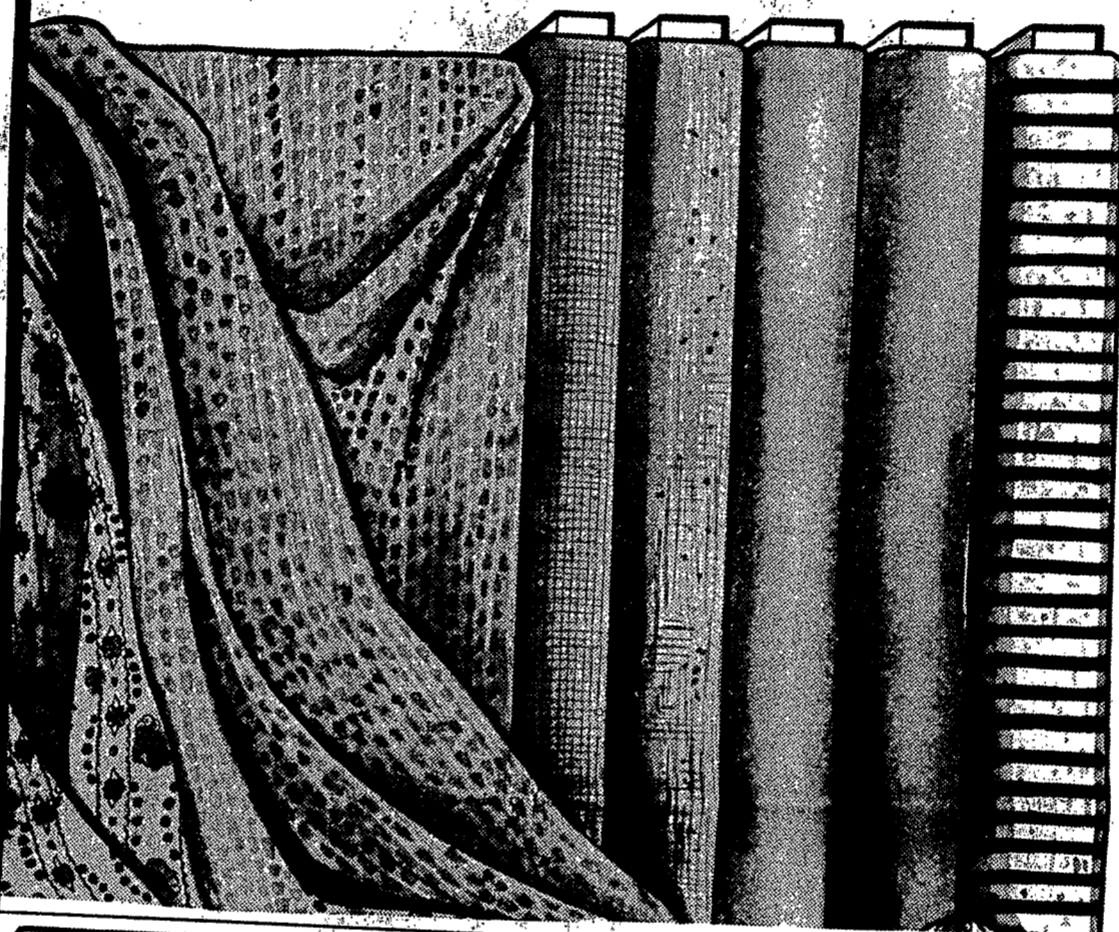

In addition, authorities found a stolen VIN (vehicle identification number) from a truck which they are now trying to locate, Ladner said.

Many folks are getting ready for the annual Mardi Gras Parades in our area.

The Krewe of Nereids will roll down US-90 on Sunday, Feb. 26, at 2 p.m. in Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

The Land and Sea Parade at Diamondhead is scheduled for Saturday, Mar. 3, starting at noon.

The Pearlington Miss Torch Parade on Highway 604 is set for Saturday, Mar. 3, at 2 p.m.

Our neighbors', Pass Christian's annual parade is set for Sunday afternoon, March 3, along the Scenic Drive. At 11 a.m. on Mardi Gras Day, The Krewe of Real People will leave St. Rose de Lima's school in Bay St. Louis.

Starting at 2 p.m., the Krewe of Triton will travel down US-90 from Our Shopping Center, Waveland to the Bay Mall Shopping Center.

Other parades should include the Krewe of Kids in Cedar Point.

So, we have a lot of parades coming in the next few days.

A lot of interest was created by the recent publication of salaries received by professional football players.

We received a copy of a contract signed by the late Richard Thames of Bay St. Louis which he signed with the New York Giants of the National Football League in 1947.

Coach Thames was at the University of Southern Mississippi, later coached at St. Stanislaus for many years, attended training camp, but did not play with the Giants because of a knee injury.

His contract called for a grand total of $4,000 for the 1947 season, and this covered pre-season exhibition games in addition to regularly scheduled league games.

The Giants did pay for travel from home to the players' training camp.

Players who were released by the team were paid some $50 per week.

So the figures received by football players today are much higher.

Firefighters were very busy again on Wednesday afternoon fighting woods fires.

Indications are that many of these have been set on purpose and authorities would like to know the parties doing these illegal actions.

The Forestry Department was giving away trees on Wednesday morning to increase the number of trees in our area.

This was very good and we hope they all will be planted.

It does seem to be a losing cause when on the other extreme we have persons destroying trees by fire.

The sheriff's department, as well as firefighters and Forestry Department would like to know who the person(s) are setting these fires.

If you have information please call 467-5101, and the arson squad will investigate.

CONTINUING EDUCATION— Firefighters from throughout Hancock and Harrison County attended four night courses on advanced firefighting held at the Bay St. Louis Fire Station. The courses were conducted by Robert Hicks, right, State and National Firefighter Instructor, Andrew Lizana, Bay St. Louis fire chief, at left, and Hicks are viewing a film being shown to the class. Some 56 firefighters participated in the classes. (Staff photos by Ellis Cuevas).

Mississippi high school leaders will discuss free enterprise principles with six of Mississippi's foremost business and industrial leaders at the fourth annual Free Enterprise Youth Conference sponsored by the American Enterprise Center, the educational arm of the Mississippi Economic Council.

The day-long conference will be conducted at Mississippi State University on Feb. 10.

Conference participants will attend workshop sessions featuring a new series of video tapes showing the free enterprise system at work in Mississippi through six businesses. Executives from the businesses will be on hand to discuss free enterprise principles illustrated in the films.

At the conference luncheon, students will be addressed by Carlyle Harris, a Tupelo banker, who feels even stronger than most Mississippians about the importance of the free enterprise system. He spent nearly eight years as a prisoner in North Vietnam.

American Enterprise Center Chairman Lewis F. Mallory Jr. of Starkville, said the conference is designed to expose students to free enterprise information and to encourage the students to pass on the information to other students.

Business and industrial executives participating in the workshops will be Hardy Graham of Meridian and Harold Clark of Starkville, both with Coca-Cola Bottlers; O. Edward Wall of Jackson, president of First Chemical Corporation; Marlin Ivey of Kosciusko, president of Ivey's, Inc.; Ben Gaston of Indianola, personnel director of Lewis Grocer Company; Richard Redd of Jackson, president of Redd Pest Control Company, Inc.; and Paul Nuckolls of Meridian, president of Specialty Roll Products.

Moderators for the conference workshops will be Dr. John Perry of Mississippi State University; Bob Pittman, president of the Mississippi Economic Council; Dr. Billy Pounds of Mississippi University for Women; Dr. Vagn Hansen of Delta State University; Dr. Ed Wood and Dr. Alton Finch of the University of Mississippi; and Bill Pace, program director of the American Enterprise Center.

Free Enterprise Youth Conferences are also scheduled for the University of Southern Mississippi on Feb. 22, and at the University of Mississippi on March 7.

High school juniors and/or seniors who have demonstrated leadership qualities are eligible to attend the conference which is limited to five students per school. For registration information, write the American Enterprise Center, P. O. Box 1849, Jackson, MS 39205, or call 969-0022.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

Agricultural Credit

Senator Thad Cochran is renewing his effort to gain support for a Presidential task force to examine problems in the agricultural credit system.

"Now that Congress has begun the 1984 session," Senator Cochran said, "I am actively seeking support for the legislation I introduced last fall."

The Senator commented, "We need a complete review of our nation's agricultural credit system. The problems in this area are of such magnitude they need the attention of a blue-ribbon panel such as a Presidential task force."

He pointed out his legislation calls for such a task force to identify and evaluate the present methods of making agricultural credit available and to develop specific recommendations for improving the system to ensure an adequate amount of credit at reasonable rates.

Senator Cochran, chairman of two major subcommittees on the Senate Appropriations and Agriculture committees dealing with farm issues, warned "the combination of expensive capital investments and poor weather conditions has proven disastrous for many farmers. There are many good farmers who will require a long time to recover fully."

He said hearings he conducted recently, as well as personal contacts with farmers in Mississippi, repeatedly brought out the increasing difficulty our farmers are experiencing in obtaining the necessary levels of credit to continue their operations.

Senator Cochran said the severity of the situation is illustrated by the sharp rise in farm debt—from $50 billion in 1970 or over $215 billion last year. Also, farm credit administrators report the number of bankruptcies, foreclosures and liquidated loans were significantly higher in 1983.

Noxubee County resident calls for state-wide unity in preventing hazardous waste dumping

February 8, 1984
Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

We respectfully request that you publish this letter and ask that all who read it join with us to fight location of a hazardous waste dump in Mississippi soil.

We are amazed that so many people are uninformed regarding hazardous waste dumps. They do not know that there has never been a successful dump.

They do not know that the Environmental Protection Agency has stated again and again that man does not know how to make a container that will not leak.

They do not know that the so called "state of the art" dumps leak within months. They do not know that ground water cannot be purified once it is polluted.

They do not know that it is for this reason many American citizens must drink only bottled water.

They do not know that these dumps can be almost as dangerous as nuclear dumps. And in addition to not knowing, often people are disinterested.

But an application to dump hazardous waste in Mississippi has been filed.

We are in grave danger of having waste from most other states and several foreign countries dumped at Shuqualak, Mississippi in Noxubee County.

Many more industrialized states where hazardous waste dumps have existed for long years are now realizing the dangers and are closing dumps.

In many cases Superfund money is being used to clean up these sites. Where do the companies who do the clean up work put the material which is "cleaned up"? They take it somewhere else and dump it again, ultimately creating other Superfund sites.

All thinking, responsible citizens recognize the fact that manufacturers create a lot of waste. But we also recognize that manufacturers can dispose of their own waste on site with technology currently available, but more time consuming and a little more expensive in some cases than burying waste in our precious land.

And then it's out of sight, out of mind until your water is contaminated. All dumps leak. It is only a matter of when. We feel that the State of Mississippi has been forced by manufacturers to consider a hazardous waste dumping facility for Mississippi.

Why in the world would we ever consider the worst technology available? EPA says burying should always be the last resort and yet Mississippi is making it the first resort.

We ask that Mississippians unite to keep the state from allowing any hazardous waste dumping. This matter is as critical as allowing the Federal Government to dump nuclear waste in our state.

Waste destroys, whether it is nuclear or hazardous. Let's not accept the worst for Mississippi when better methods are available.

Write your state senators and representatives. Write our governor. This is a situation that is not going away. It cannot be ignored. It needs your attention. Please help.

Many states now have groups organized to fight hazardous waste dumps. We need such an organization in Mississippi. If you are interested—and we feel you must be—please contact me.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Thomas

Clermont

St. Louis in securing city services as a prime example.

"Clermont Harbor has always been a small self-sustaining community doing everything with voluntary work and without taxes," Lestelle said.

"Plus, roughly about 45 percent of the people here are retired or economically disadvantaged. We're barely making ends meet with what we are paying in taxes now," he reported.

He said Clermont residents do not want to be part of any incorporated area, but if they have no choice will form their own town.

Lestelle reported the Clermont committee originally consisted of six residents, but has grown to a 17-member group.

The committee has received copies of pertinent laws through the State Attorney General's Office and hired Pass Christian attorneys Malcolm and Randall Jones for legal advice.

"Waveland's city limits used to be several miles from us, now it's only 600 yards away," Lestelle stated.

"As it stands right now the Waveland Board of Aldermen can initiate an ordinance and file a petition to the Chancery Court. If the chancellor decides it is of public necessity and convenience, he would approve enlarging the boundaries of Waveland and no vote of the people is required," he reported.

He said time is on the side of Clermont residents if Waveland's aldermen decide to annex because the unincorporated community could file in Chancery Court to form a town first.

Lestelle explained that an annexation move must be approved by the aldermen, the proposal must be published as a legal notice as required by law and then finally acted upon by the city officials.

"The fundamental difference in both moves is that two-thirds of the qualified voters in Clermont must approve formation of a town with a signed petition, but no voters have a voice if Waveland annexes," he stated.

The committee clerk noted a move is Lestelle reported a meeting last Thursday at the Clermont Volunteer Fire Department station drew about 34 concerned citizens and many of those were initially angry because they thought the committee definitely planned to seek incorporation based on rumors in the community.

He said another meeting on Monday saw a marked change in the citizens impression of the committee.

"It's almost unanimous that most of the people here don't want a change at all," Lestelle added.

The committee clerk said the original six-person committee consisted of himself, Clyde Ladner, Mary Callier, Jerry Roberts, Charles Jackson and Robert Clark who has since resigned due to personal reasons.

afloat in the State Legislature to require a referendum for any municipal annexations.

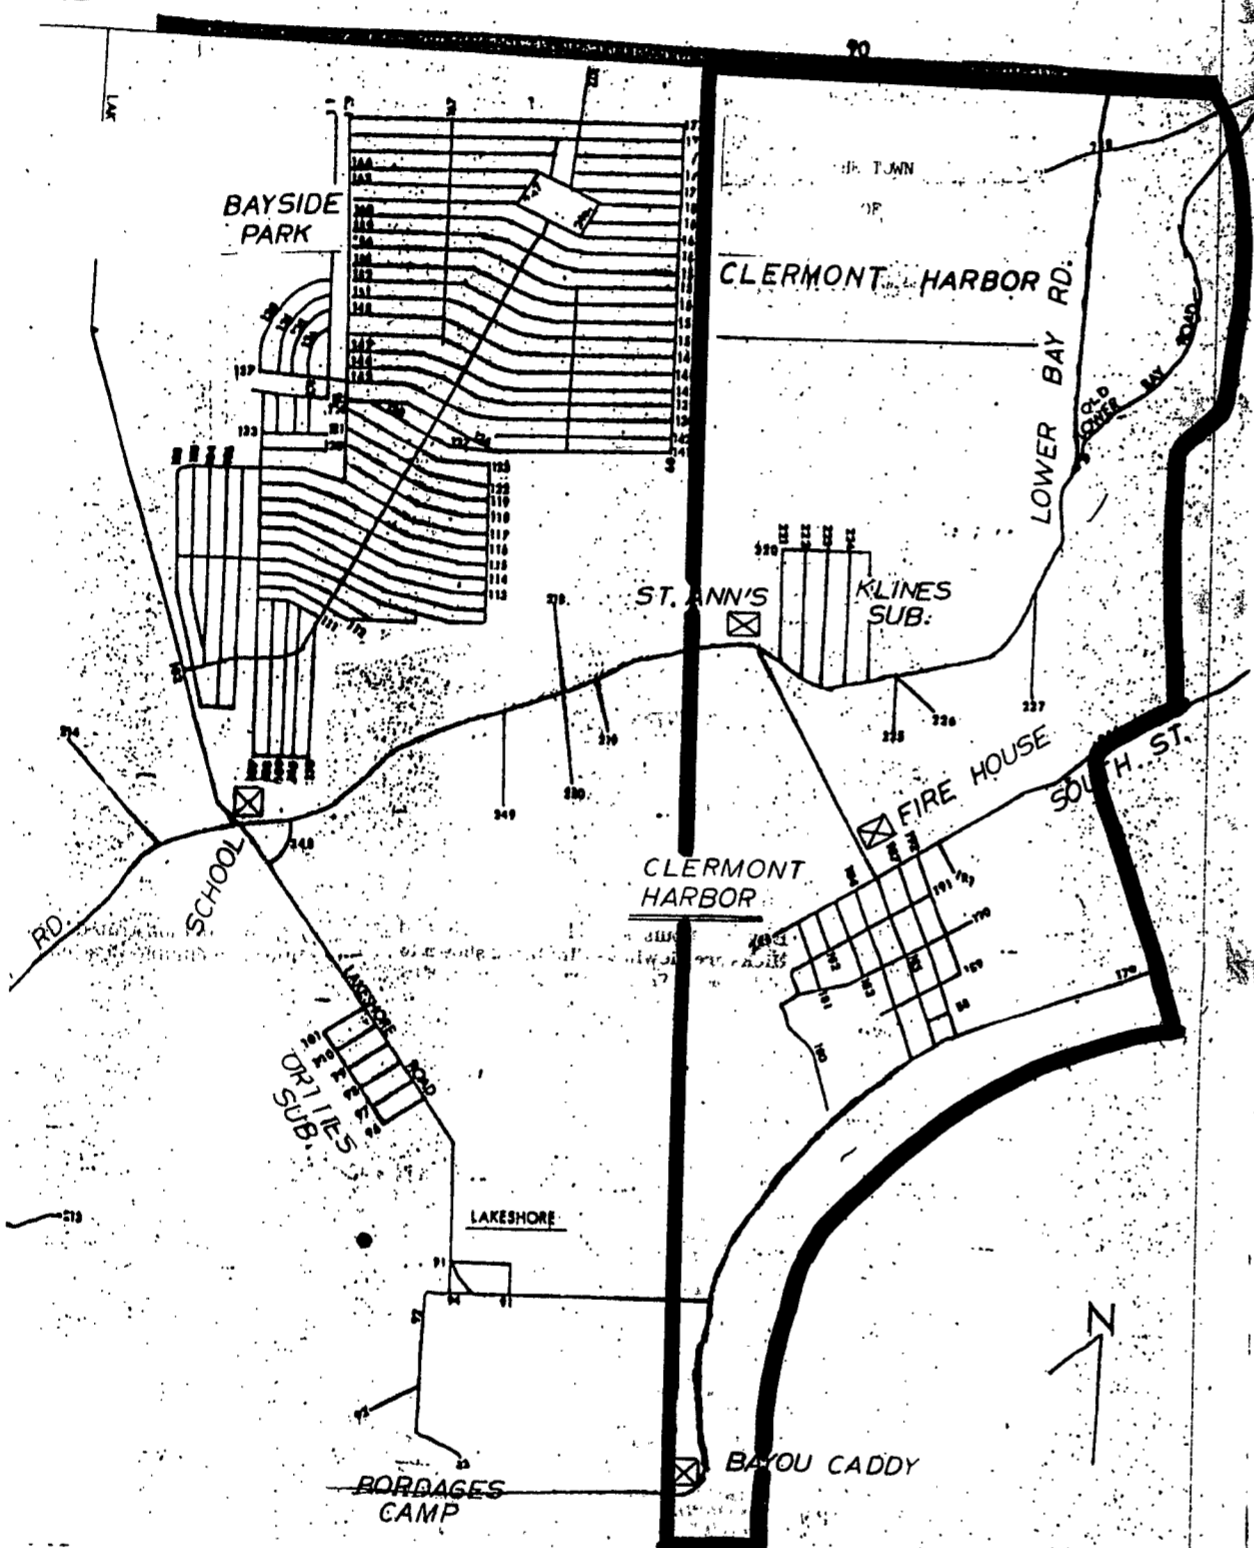

He said as a precautionary measure a land survey is being conducted to establish some sort of boundaries for a town which will allow the committee to ask the Hancock assessor-tax collector's office to appraise that area to see what millage rate would be needed to support an incorporated Clermont Harbor as compared to Waveland's tax rate.

The map accompanying this report shows the proposed town area.

He admitted the even the town incorporation would result in some Clermont tax increase.

"I want to emphasize one thing, we are an information gathering and sharing committee. We do not propose a specific defense against annexation," he stated.

He noted the committee wants to be open and fair to benefit all Clermont citizens.

POSSIBLE TOWN OF CLERMONT HARBOR—A map drafted by the Clermont Harbor Committee for Home rule shows proposed boundaries for a Town of Clermont Harbor which is one possibility being discussed by the organization to stop probable annexation by the City of Waveland. The area is roughly located between Waveland and the BaySide and Lakeshore areas.

which would give one

Alabama; Rusty Adam,
Alabama; and Friloux
from St. Stanislaus.
National and world
champion Doc Rhodes

GULFPORT'S VINSON KEYHEA who trains at Rhodes' Fitness Center is the state champ in the 181 class. He recently won the Junior World's in his division. He pulls an easy 682 pounds here.

LORENZO BARRETT of Washington, D.C. is the American Drug Free Powerlifting Association national champion in the super heavy weight division. Here he's deadlifting 650 pounds for a new American record.

PIRATE—ROCK ACTION—Rockachaws Pat Cilurso (20) and Shane Corr (15) are matched under the goal by Pirates Irvin Hall (22) and Brent Cannon (21) in varsity basketball action.

KRIS GEROUX glides into the basket during a recent St. Stanislaus-Pass Christian varsity basketball contest at Brother Peter Gym on the SSC Bay St. Louis campus.

National champs to compete at SSC powerlift Saturday

The 17th annual Mississippi Invitational Powerlifting Championships will be held Saturday in the Brother Peter Memorial Gym on the campus of St. Stanislaus.

This meet is sanctioned by the American Drug Free Powerlifting Association.

Competitors from Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Virginia, Texas, Michigan and Washington, D.C. are expected.

Several American records are expected to be set at this contest plus a number of state records, according to SSC's Brother Bennett.

A Georgia physician will conduct testing to insure that the participants in the contest are clean, natural lifters.

The ADFPA requires that testing be done to assure that the athletes have not been using steroids or other strength-inducing chemicals which would give one lifter an advantage over another.

Competitors on the local level include Jay Ryan from Pearl River Junior College, Rusty Adam and Eddie Frloux from St. Stanislaus; national and world champion Doc Rhoads of Gulfport; world champion Davy Davis of Pascagoula; and Vinson Keyes of Gulfport, and national ADPPA champion Lorenzo Barrett of Washington, D.C.

Provisions have been made to have national judges pre-

Competitions should begin around 9:30 a.m. and conclude by 4 p.m.

LANNY SHEPARD is the 275-pound Alabama state champion. He is also a national lifter, a meet promoter, a minister and a father. Shepard is squatting with 628 pounds.

DAVY DAVIS from Pascagoula is a state, national and world champion. Here Davis lifts 490 pounds at a body weight of 148.

SSC's JIM BAES sets for a goal in Pass Christian-St. Stanislaus varsity basketball action. Defending for the Pirates are Brent Cannon (21) and Joe Brown (23). The Pirates bested the Rocks 45-23 in the cross-bay rivalry.

TOM WALTON of the St. Stanislaus Junior Varsity Cagers rises to the occasion for two points against Pine High at Brother Peter Gym. The Rock JV closed out the 1983-1984 season with a 51-33 loss to the Pirates and a 19-5 season effort.

Bay Area Youth Soccer Spring season underway

BAYS Spring season went into full swing this past weekend with a complete complement of games.

In the Under 8 Division Coca Cola had a tough time with Hancock Bank before coming out on top 1-0. In the second game Specialty Metal could only field nine players and got zipped by Gateway Body Shop 7-0.

In the Under 10 Division Loiacano's Health Spa scored three goals in the first half and went on to win 3-0 over Bernard Construction which missed on several scoring opportunities. Then in a cliffhanger McDonald's Restaurant made one goal stand up for a 1-0 decision over Hancock General Hospital. Finally McDonald Realty topped Thomas Murphy, DDS 3-1. On Sunday Sirloin Stockade traveled to Slidell for a game, but got rained out in the first half.

In the Under 12 Division Pat's Chevron got the edge on Edmond Fahey Funeral Home 3-1 with the winning goals coming in the final minutes. Dental Health Service followed with an identical 3-1 score over Parker's Hardware.

In the Under 14 Division Gulf Coast Waste started only nine players and played Bay-Waveland Tire to a scoreless first half. In the second half a tenth player arrived as Gulf Coast Waste scored twice off of corner kicks on its way to a 3-0 victory. Bay-Waveland Tire missed on its scoring opportunities while Gulf Coast Waste capitalized on each opportunity.

Later Knights of Columbus overcame a 1-0 deficit against Picaune to hold a 3-2 lead going into the final minutes when it tied the game with two more goals for a 5-2 decision.

In the Under 16 Division Alcan Cable in an exhibition game against Long Beach had to pick up a couple of Under 14 boys to field a starting eleven, and it was one of these, John Favre, who got Alcan Cable's first goal on a rebound off the goalkeeper. Then Todd Thrifley arrived and scored almost immediately upon entering the game on a breakaway. The final was 5-1 for Alcan Cable.

In the Girls Division Sea Coast Echo gave up three goals in the first half against the Slidell Select Under 12 team, but then played Slidell even the rest of the way. In the afternoon SportsWorld was in Ocean Springs to play the team which won the District Tournament last year and which elected to play Select this year. SportsWorld put up a stiff defense to maintain a scoreless tie at halftime.

Early in the second Shannon O'Brien, suffering from a leg injury, scored the only goal of the game on a shot into the upper corner of the net on a beautiful setup by Krissy Erickson.

Shannon had to leave for the remainder of the game as she reinjured her leg on that shot.

With Krissy also favoring a bad leg, Kelli Lee took up the offensive slack with fine aggressive play, just missing an opportunity of scoring another goal.

Goalkeeping duties were shared by Melissa Duncan, Dana Wheeler and Kathy Kergosien who all did an outstanding job. Ocean Spring's furious rally in the final minutes was unable to penetrate the stalwart Red Raiders' defense.

On Sunday Hancock Bank (Select) was in Slidell for a doubleheader when the thunderstorms hit. Hancock Bank was trailing 1-0 in the first half of the first game on an early goal by the Slidell "B" Select eleven.

However, Hancock Bank was holding its own when the rains came, mounting several offensive threats of its own. Although the individual skills of the Slidell team seemed to be a little better than those of Hancock Bank, the passing and overall team play of Hancock Bank was offsetting any such advantage.

The Alcan Cable/Picaune Sunday game also was canceled due to the rains.

In soccer action this Saturday the schedule is as follows:

Under 8 Division
9:30 Specialty Metal (0-1-0) vs. Gateway Body Shop (1-0-0)

On Sunday Hancock Bank (Select) hosts Gulfport in a doubleheader starting at 1:30. Next Saturday is the Great Day of Soccer at Milner Stadium sponsored by Coca Cola. All teams are urged to compete in the individual skill tests. There is no fee for this event, just fun for the youth.

All referees and coaches are urged to attend a Rules Clinic this evening at the Main Street United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Copies of the Laws of the Game will be distributed to those who have not already received one. The clinic will help both referees and coaches understand how the laws work in actual game situations, and what their respective positions are vis-a-vis the laws.

Seven Bulldogs sign with colleges

Seven members of Gulf Coast Junior College's 1983 football team have signed grant-in-aid scholarships with senior colleges and universities. Bulldogs Coach George Sekul announced.

Sekul said the signees are:

Center Ken Bourgeois of New Orleans, East Carolina University; defensive end Randall Webster of Gulfport, Southwestern Oklahoma State University; punter Kirk Basone of Gulfport and defensive back Mike Patterson of Moss Point, Eastern New Mexico University; defensive tackle Thad Wells of Moss Point, Emporia (Kan.) State University; defensive back Rod Wells of Hurley, Tulane University; and offensive tackle Ken Breal of Biloxi, Delta State University.

Bourgeois, 6-1, 240, was named to the All-American first team by the National Junior College Athletic Association and to the J.C. Grid Wire's All-American second team.

He was selected the Most Valuable offensive lineman in the NJCAA's All-Region XXIII, was All-State in the Mississippi Junior College Conference, and was a player in the NJCC All-Star game.

Webster, 6-4, 235, was a Grid-Wire first team All-American, made the NJCAA's second team and was voted Most Valuable defensive lineman in All-Region XXIII. He was an All-State and All-Star pick.

Basone, 6-2, 180, was a two-year starter. He had a kicking average of 43.1 yards and received an All-American honorable mention from the NJCAA.

Patterson, 5-10, 175, started for two years. Thad Wells, 6-4, 250, and Rod Wells, 6-1, 180, saw extensive action in 1983.

Breal, 6-2, 235, was an All-Stater, All-Region XXIII, and was chosen for the J.C. All-Star game.

SOCCER CLINIC

A soccer clinic will be held Saturday, Feb. 18 at Milner Stadium in Gulfport for all coast area players and enthusiasts.

Doing MORE...With LESS!

THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS
THE ART OF MASSAGE

Thanks to today's rebirth of interest in holistic health and natural healing techniques, the ancient art of massage has once again taken its place as a legitimate and very effective means of providing relaxation, body tone, and even "drugless therapy" in the treatment of a number of minor ailments.

The appeal of this therapy stems, of course, from the soothing effects it produces. But a thorough massage can promote well-being by positively influencing the body's physiological sensory receptors in the epidermis, which then send reflex stimuli through the nervous system to exert a profoundly healthful effect on the deeper tissues, muscles, and organs.

The kneading and manipulation of massage can also increase the circulation of blood and lymph. As a matter of fact, a one-hour session can stimulate the body's circulation as well as a seven-mile run! Of course, massage doesn't provide the same aerobic benefits that active exercise offers, but it does help disperse the cramp-producing waste deposits of lactic acids that accumulate in the muscles after physical exertion.

Furthermore, although it can't actually increase a person's strength, massage is very effective in loosening contracted, tight muscles and toning weak, flaccid ones. It can also improve muscle flexibility by stretching the hardened connective tissue that hampers free movement and by relieving pain or swelling. Thanks to its stimulatory action, massage even increases gland secretions and excretions, and they, in turn, enhance skin condition and speed up the body cells' metabolic rate. And because it can disperse tension anywhere in the body, this practice is one of the most effective and inexpensive anti-stress therapies available.

The following strokes, all components of the system of Swedish massage, can be used to perform the "do-it-yourself" treatments at home.

Effleurage, the "gliding" stroke, requires that the hands slip lightly over the skin to begin stimulating the tactile nerves. This movement is typically used to apply oil to the body in a smooth, continuous motion.

Petrissage consists of a kneading motion of the fingers that would be used to break up muscles of any accumulated toxins that may be causing pain or fatigue.

Vibration, another method of removing tension, consists of pulling a small area of flesh up firmly between the fingers and then shaking, or vibrating, it to loosen it up.

Tapement is the percussive movement most people envision when they think of Swedish massage. It involves striking the body a series of rapid-fire blows with either the straight sides of the hands, the fingertips, or the cupped palms. This stimulating stroke improves circulation and relieves fatigue.

Friction is a general name for any one of several deep pressure maneuvers. Most commonly, they're applied in concentric circles, around and within a tender spot—with the thumbs, the fingertips, the heels of the hands, or the elbows. This kind of stroke can break up waste deposits in the tissues and is often an excellent form of treatment for swellings, pulled or grating joints, and aching muscles.

There are no hard-and-fast rules as to how, when, and where to give a massage. Remember primarily that fancy equipment, gadgets, and a large repertoire of strokes aren't necessary. You really need only the desire to use your hands to make someone feel better.

The number of really good books on massage is limited, but one that's definitely worthwhile is The Massage Book by George Downing (Madison House Bookworks). Look for it at your bookstore or library.

There are 2 basic steps that you can take to determine if you have adequate insurance on your valuables:

1. Get an appraisal and know today's replacement value. For your protection, have valuables professionally appraised.
2. Know the limits on theft losses in your Homeowners policy. Your Homeowners policy covers all personal possessions. When there is a loss by theft, however, the amount of reimbursement on certain items is limited.

An inventory is vitally important after a loss. If there is a disaster tomorrow, would you remember each item lost? We have inventory booklets to help make the job easier. Come by your office for your free booklet.

GREY POODLE—This is insulting. First, my owner gives me away because he's got to move to east Egypt or somewhere, they put me in this cold cage and now some yo-yo is flashing a bright light in my eyes. How much more can a little dog take! I just want a good home with a fenced yard. Boy, life is rrruff, even for a small two-year-old grey poodle like me. Now they say I'm going to get the needle here unless I get a home soon. Please call the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer for adoption information at 467-0230 Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.; Tuesday from 10 a.m. until noon; or Thursday from noon until 3 p.m. and ask for me—RRRalph. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

HOMELESS HUSKY—A good home with a fenced yard is needed soon for this Siberian Husky now at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland. Tanya is the name of this beautiful black and beige female with sparkling blue eyes which was found wandering on a local street by a concerned citizen who brought the dog to the shelter. But the dog will be painlessly destroyed soon unless a home is found. For adoption information call the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0230 Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.; Tuesday from 10 a.m. until noon; or Thursday from noon until 3 p.m. before Tanya is painlessly destroyed. USM to co-sponsor enterprise conference

The Center for Economic Education at the University of Southern Mississippi in cooperation with the American Enterprise Center is sponsoring the fourth annual Free Enterprise Youth Conference for Mississippi youth leaders.

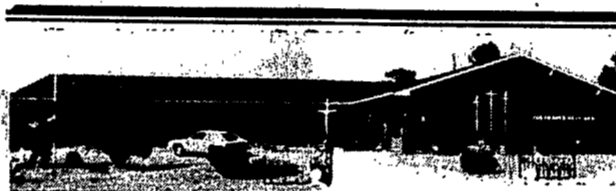

The conference will be held Sunday, Feb. 23 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on the USM campus. The purpose of the conference is to expose outstanding students to business and industrial leaders and to encourage the students to share experiences of the day with other students.

Mississippi business leaders will discuss their experiences in the free enterprise system. William H. Pace, Program Director for the American Enterprise Center in Jackson, is the activity director for this year's conference and will be one of seven speakers present.

GOLDY'S BACK—This mixed female terrier and Chihuahua named Goldy was adopted recently by a kind family, but they discovered this precious little dog with gold fur is very possessive and does not tolerate fellow canines. So Goldy is back at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive and needs a good home with a fenced yard and no other pets. She's very affectionate, but is jealous of any other animals. To adopt this one-year-old spayed baby call the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0230 Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.; Tuesday from 10 a.m. until noon; and Thursday from noon until 3 p.m. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

RSVP report

By THERESA JAMES
The Forget-Me-Not Craft Shop is open for business.

For the time being we will operate with volunteers, although a part-time employee has been hired.

There has been some misunderstanding regarding the $10 fee which is being charged by the Toll House Craft Shop.

The Forget-Me-Not Shop in Waveland will not charge a $10 fee for consignors.

There will be a 10 percent fee added to the cost of the merchandise brought to the shop.

This fee will be used to cover expenses.

The City of Waveland furnishes the building and utilities. The volunteers man the shop six days a week.

There may be times when the shop will have to close because there are no volunteers for that day, but usually it will not be closed all day.

We are requesting that consignors bring their merchandise to the shop only on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The hours it will be open will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., but because we are short of help, no merchandise will be accepted after 2 p.m.

We are requesting that consignors who removed their merchandise to please bring the crafts back to the Forget-Me-Not Shop so we can make this outlet bigger and better than ever.

For more information call the RSVP office, 467-0204.

ASCS NEWS

MEASUREMENT SERVICE

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service provides pre-measurement and other producer services to assure farmers that they are in compliance with 1984 acreage reduction requirements and eligible for program benefits.

"At the request of the producer, we will stake and measure acreages before crop planting time," Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS Office said.

"Farmers who plant within the stakes that are placed when the land can be assured of correct reporting of crop."

To be eligible for price support loans, target prices and other program benefits, producers must certify actual planted acreages. Gennin said pre-measurement is important in helping farmers plan which land to devote to the acreage conservation reserve and which field to plant.

Other ASCS producer services include measuring total cropland, field or subdivisions to be planted and land areas for other purposes. Fees vary, based on the type of service rendered.

"Pre-measured acreage is guaranteed for the program year and producers who take advantage of the service will avoid unnecessary worry over the possible loss of 1984 farm program benefits," the ASC official said.

In order to serve the request on a timely basis, farmers are encouraged to apply early.

SIGNUP IN DAIRY

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Richard F. Lyng reports 37,530 dairy producers have signed contracts with the U.S. Department of Agriculture to reduce milk output under the Dairy and Tobacco Adjustment Act of 1983.

The contracts will be accepted at the amounts offered by the dairy producers, he said.

The participants, representing some 12 percent of the nation's dairy producers, have contracted to reduce fluid milk output by 9.3 billion pounds.

This would be about 5.5 percent of the estimated milk output during the 15 months of the program. The reduction in calendar 1984 will be about 7.4 billion pounds, and could range from 6.5 to 8.2 billion pounds.

"This is a substantial amount, but it is also somewhat disappointing since we had hoped a larger number would participate," Lyng said. "It appears the dairy surplus problem is not going to be resolved as quickly as all of us had hoped."

Contracts show an intended herd reduction under the program of 336,796 head above normal culling.

Producers also indicated their intention to send 23 percent of that amount to slaughter by Jan. 31.

The remaining reduction will be at a rate of about 20,000 head per month. "This should not have a significant impact on cattle, poultry or hog markets," Lyng said.

Lyng said payments to participants of $10 per hundredweight of reduction will total about $930 million. This will be financed by a 50-cent per hundredweight USDA assessment on all milk produced in the 48 contiguous states and marketed for commercial use.

This assessment runs from Dec. 1, 1983 to March 31, 1985. It replaces two 50-cent assessments imposed under legislation previously enacted by Congress in an attempt to resolve the dairy surplus problem.

Another mandatory assessment of 15 cents per hundredweight will begin when the program for dairy product promotion, research and nutrition education becomes effective. Lyng said USDA is working on the portion of the act which calls for the establishment of a 36-member National Dairy Promotion and Research Board.

Lyng said dairy product promotion efforts will be designed to increase public consumption and further decrease the cost of the government's dairy surplus acquisition program.

However, he said, participation figures indicate that a further reduction in milk output will be needed after the 15 months in the program have lapsed. "It also appears that further adjustment will be necessary to bring the dairy supply and demand closer into balance."

The $13.10 per hundredweight average support price for milk was reduced by 50 cents on Dec. 1, 1983 as authorized by Congress under the Dairy and Tobacco Adjustment Act. Lyng said it appears this may need to be reduced by another 50 cents on April, 1985.

The act permits this action if USDA estimates net purchases of milk products by the Commodity Credit Corporation will exceed six billion pounds of milk equivalent in the succeeding 12 months.

Also, USDA may reduce the support to $11.60 on July 1, 1985 if it estimates net government purchases will exceed five billion pounds milk equivalent in the following year.

December marked the 56th consecutive month of year-to-year increases in milk production. Since 1979, these increases have resulted from gains in both cow numbers and the amount of milk per cow.

Growing Child

LEARNING MATH IN THE KITCHEN

Children begin to learn mathematical concepts long before they go to school. They gain this knowledge through everyday activities, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

Early number awareness comes from simple activities:

- * Determining the difference between 'these' things and 'those' things;
- * Sorting objects which belong together;
- * Ordering objects in space.

An example of how children order things in space happened when Jennie was helping her mother put away the dishes, flatware, and pots and pans in the kitchen.

In the beginning Jennie, who is three years old, would push the pots and pans into the cupboard any old way. She discovered, however, that when she did this, the door wouldn't close.

Then her mother suggested, "Why not try to put the cookie sheets in first? I always put trays on the bottom."

When Jennie accepted that advice, it didn't take too long before she got the door closed. There was really no mystery: she used her knowledge of how parts fit together.

Children develop a mathematical sense when they must arrange or share space, food, or other materials.

Learning by cooking

Cooking and baking are rich experiences for language enrichment and mathematical challenges, too.

With sugar, flour, eggs, salt, and water to measure, mix, sift, and stir, a child can work through abstract mathematical concepts long before starting school.

Think about all the concepts involved with cooking tasks: 'heavy,' 'light,' 'long,' 'short,' 'more,' 'less,' 'a little bit,' 'a lot,' 'spoonful,' 'cupful,' 'hot,' 'cold,' 'cool.' They proceed to the complex 'more than but not as much as,' and comparatives such as 'long,' 'medium,' 'short.'

Learning from water play can be very enriching, too, if a child has a place to play, understands the rules for water play, and has the proper materials—old raincoat, washtub, plastic bottles, funnel, straws, sieve, sponges, soapsuds, egg beater.

Bathtime can be a time for experimentation: "What floats? What doesn't float? Why?" A variety of common materials can be used in the tub—sponge, soap, plastic up, wooden spoon.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information and a free sample newsletter, write to Growing Child, P. O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing.

USM announces Honors speakers

John LeBoutiller, a Harvard graduate who became the youngest member of the 97th Congress, will be the speaker at the University of Southern Mississippi Honors Forum Tuesday, Feb. 14 at 7 p.m.

His topic will be "A Republican View of Election '84."

LeBoutiller became the only GOP freshman to serve on the prestigious Foreign Affairs Committee.

As a member of the special House POW/MIA Task Force, he pressed for continuing investigations into the fate of some 2,500 Americans still unaccounted for in Indochina.

He is a conservative, a Republican and a strong supporter of Ronald Reagan.

LeBoutiller is no longer a Congressman but he is still known as being outspoken, conservative and as supportive of Reagan's policies.

The public is invited to the lecture, which is free of charge.

It will be held in Bennett Auditorium on the USM campus.

Ship's Gallery celebrates Tri-State winning artists

By NAN P. EHRLBRIGHT
Seven members of Ship's Gallery, a co-op art gallery in Pass Christian, won ribbons or purchase awards at the annual Tri-State Art Show which ended last week at the Edgewater Mall in Gulfport.

"We're very proud of them," Ship's Gallery President Sara Rainnie of Pass Christian said, noting that some years there are as many as 800 entries in the show, which involves artists from Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana. The tri-state show is coordinated by Nellie Evans of Biloxi, who operates an artists' supply shop in the mall.

Elizabeth H. Beasnett of Gulfport, who teaches at the middle school in Pass Christian, will take home a red ribbon for her second prize in graphics.

Other Ship's Gallery winners are John P. Dameron of Pass Christian, purchase award and honorable mention in water colors; Garnett Mingledorff of Pass Christian, honorable mention in water colors; Ruth Howard of Waveland, two purchase awards in graphics; J.J. Foley of Gulfport, honorable mention in acrylics; Ann Byrd of Gulfport, purchase award in water colors; and Polly Cotton of Long Beach, purchase award in oils.

To celebrate the artists' recognition, a display of Oriental-type flags and banners has been hung outside the gallery.

Flags with the individual winners' names are included in the display.

"We tied the display in with the Chinese celebration of the Year of the Rat," said gallery vice president Jean Hammett of Pass Christian.

"We decided we needed color, and we thought it would be amusing."

Ship's Gallery, which is located at 102 Market Street adjoining Dotter's Book Boat, was organized about three years ago with nine members.

Hammett noted that the group has a screening committee to ensure a high calibre of work.

According to Rainnie and Hammett, the group currently has a core group of seven and about 25 people who exhibit at the gallery.

"The word 'core' means work," Hammett explained. "I'm talking about organizing work, and carting materials around and climbing ladders."

But Rainnie noted that everyone involved works hard.

"We change our show once a month," she said.

"We couldn't do that if the artists just produced one or two pieces a year."

Besides artists who work in acrylics, oils and watercolors, Ship's Gallery includes photographers, a weaver, a potter and a woodworker.

Members include residents of Pass Christian, Bay St.

Louis, Waveland, Long Beach, Gulfport and New Orleans, Slidell and Covington, La.

As its contribution to the fund-raising for St. Paul's Catholic School sponsored annually by St. Paul's Carnival Association, Ship's Gallery is selling tickets for a portrait by Kat Fitzpatrick of Bay St. Louis.

Tickets are $3 each. Hammett said the person who holds the winning ticket may choose to have Fitzpatrick paint either a 'person portrait' or a 'house portrait.'

Ship's Gallery is open to the public from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

HNC students rebut critics of basketball coaches

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Two Hancock North Central High School students at a Saturday meeting of the Hancock County School Board voiced their support of the school basketball coaching staff.

The school board incorporated the letter into its minutes.

Danita Ladner—a member of the HNC Beta Club, varsity girls basketball team, Student Council and Future Business Leaders of America—read the letter.

She was accompanied by Deron Cuevas, manager of the HNC High School boys basketball team.

The letter was in response to criticisms aired at a previous board meeting by several school patrons regarding the HNC basketball program.

When asked by Billie Fay Lyons, board president, if the letter represented the feelings of most of the school basketball players, Ladner replied that the majority of all students feel the way she does regarding the coaching staff.

The student added that an entire bus load of students would have attended the meeting in support of the coaches, but they thought it would be more effective to appoint two representatives to speak to the board.

Ladner stated, "They've (the coaches) told us many times if you win or lose you're still a person. We don't feel awful if we lose."

Board member John Banks stated, "I looked into it and I think it's true, I think they're doing their job."

Lyons and Board Member George Ladner both endorsed the opinion of the students.

The entire text of the letter is as follows:

February 11, 1984
Dear Members of the
Hancock County
School Board:

This letter is in regard to the article in "The Sea Coast Echo," Thursday, Feb. 9, 1984 about the basketball coaches at Hancock North Central.

It is our sincere belief that this discussion was totally unfair, uncalled for and unnecessary.

How can Mr. Greg Shaw say that the coaches are not taking an interest in the kids? Has he been in their classrooms or in their teams or in the locker rooms?

None of us recall seeing him come to coach a game, as our coaches have, with a fever, on the verge of having the flu. We've never heard him walk into McDonald's after a game and ask the team as a whole if anyone needed money to eat or seen him slip team members money when he knew that they didn't have any.

The coaches never leave the school after a game until they know that each one of us has ride. They end up taking three or four members home because their parents can't come pick them up. We've seen them jump off more than one dead car so that parents wouldn't have to get out and come pick a player up.

They talk to us about our everyday problems about how important it is to avoid drugs, stay in school, go to college and about how we need to express our love for our parents and our country more and more of a thousand other things.

We, as a ball team may not have the best record, but we now know what they meant when they would say "No matter whether you win or lose, as long as you give it your best you'll always be a winner."

In talking about this letter, we realized that a week doesn't go by that someone doesn't go to one of these coaches with a personal problem and they've never once turned us away.

We've seen days where we've go to class and everyone would be down and out and they would notice and be sure to say things that would cheer us up and make us feel better about life.

We've never heard a coach cuss on the sidelines. Maybe the "unidentified patron" heard one of the spectators in the stands cussing and just thought it was a coach. We hear a lot tougher language from the stands than we hear on the court.

Yes, a ball player did spit water on the floor and payed dearly for it.

Our spectators are guilty of spitting far worse than water. It's a shame that you can't see the tobacco on the floor, on the stage and in the stands after a game—and they do it a lot more than once!

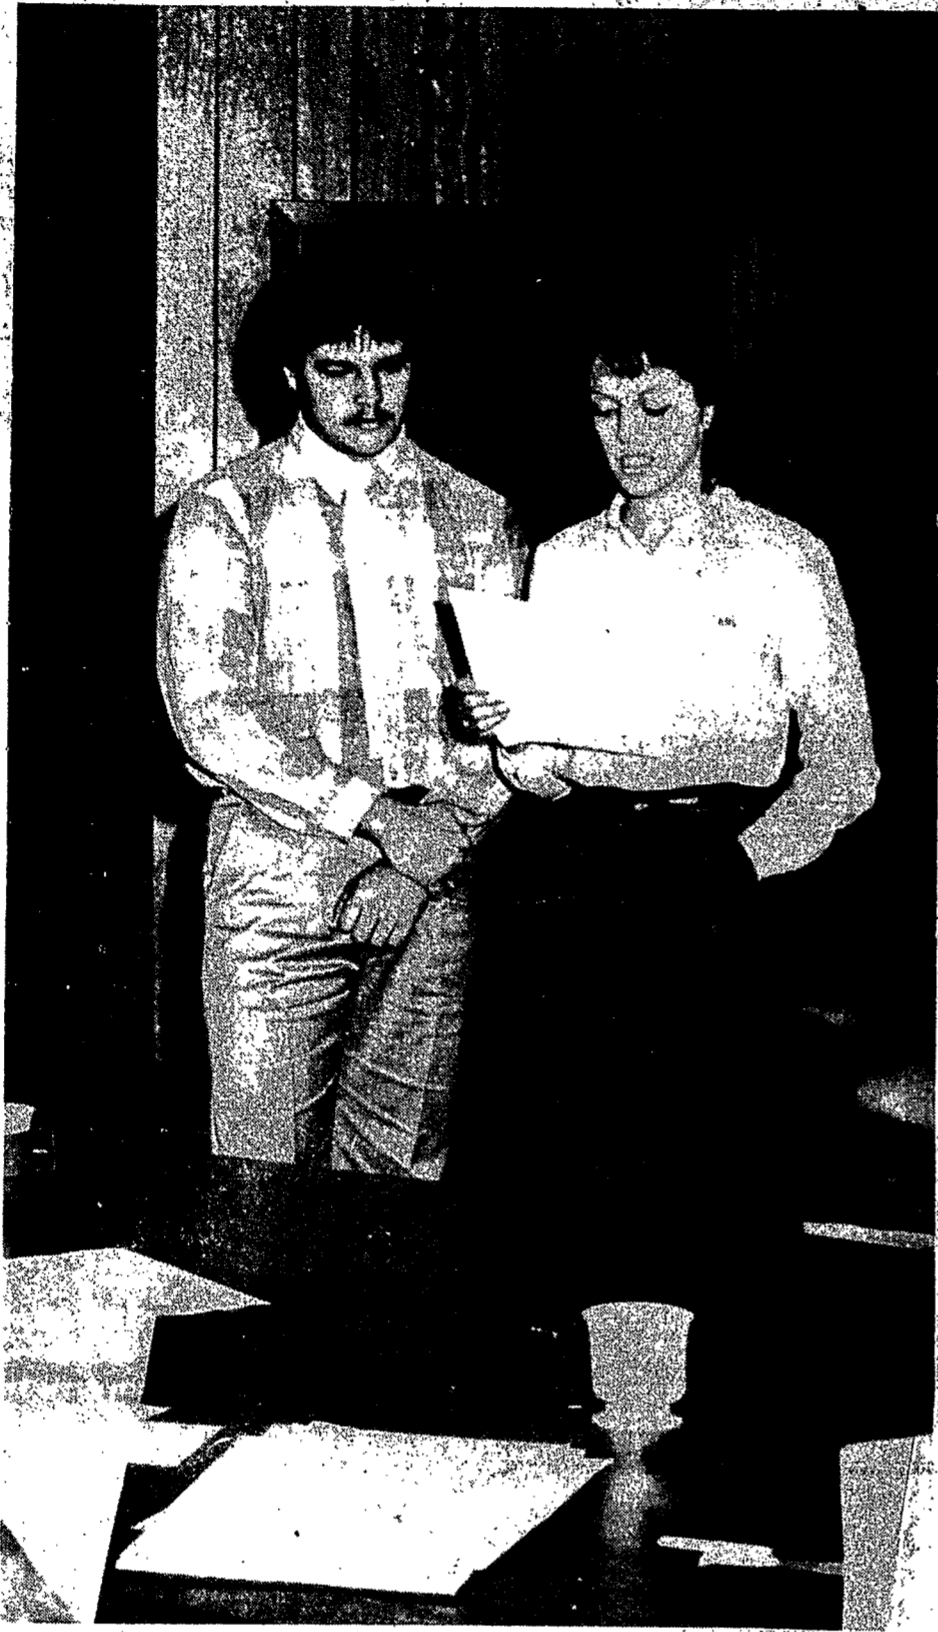

This letter is not meant to bring anymore trouble to our school or coaching staff. We simply believe that we, as students, have the right to express to you, the board, our strong feelings regarding this letter.

It is of great concern to us that only the bad or negative things about HNC are ever published and never the good!

We haven't seen any articles about the faculty members (two of whom happen to be coaches) taking time and money of their own to take groups of students to Disney World, Mexico City and Washington, D.D. for spring break.

We haven't seen any mention of the fact that faculty members (one of them a coach) are interested in bringing the world away from Hancock to us by bringing a candidate for lieutenant governor and the director of the International Trade Center in New Orleans as guest speakers to our classrooms.

The students and players appreciate the complete education they are introducing to us. They are building

CONCERNED STUDENTS—Reading a letter from Hancock North Central High School students at a Saturday morning Hancock County School Board meeting is Danita Ladner as Deron Cuevas stands beside her. The two students attended the meeting to support the school basketball coaching staff and to reply to basketball critics who voiced their disapproval of the coaching staff at a previous board meeting. CRICK IN NECK

A spasmodic condition of the muscles in the neck and even the shoulder area occur when the neck bones have become subluxated, irritating spinal nerves which control muscle function. Aside from being painful, it is often attended with various complications if not treated for promptly. We find that people who acquire them will usually experience additional neck problems, each more severe than the previous. Falls, drafts, accidents, posture all contribute to this painful condition when the patient has an underlying structural problem. Surgery, traction, clipping of the nerves are last resort measures. The Doctor of Chiropractic should be considered first for this condition as the spine and structural muscular balance are his special domain. Prompt attention will usually render the condition painless and avoid permanent damage.

HEP STUDENTS AT OLE MISS—Participants from the Gulf Coast in the first class of students attending the High School Equivalency Program (HEP) currently underway at The University of Mississippi are, from left, Patty Jumeau of Bay St. Louis, and Hiep Nguyen and Chris Powell, both of Gulfport. The students were welcomed to campus by Dr. Linda Nowstone, Ole Miss federal project coordinator for the five-week intensive program which prepares students to take the General Educational Development exam. The program was funded by the Migrant Division of the U.S. Department of Education and is being coordinated by the University's Division of Continuing Education. Persons interested in participating in the second HEP session, which begins March 18 at Ole Miss, may contact Mrs. Brenda Pounds, director of Migrant Education for the Hancock-Harrison County Co-op at 896-1211.

Louisiana MPI announces marine training

The State of Louisiana's Marine and Petroleum Institute is accepting applications for a marine training program to be conducted in Houma, La., beginning Feb. 21.

After completion of the 13-week program the trainees will be referred to marine companies for employment.

Institute Director V.J. Giannelli says the recent oil lease sales in the Gulf of Mexico have resulted in increased drilling activity. The demand for boats and their crews is directly related to drilling activity.

Trained personnel have an advantage when deckhand positions become available and most LaMPI trainees have been able to find employment during their on-the-job training, Giannelli says.

However, he notes, due to the past depressed state of drilling activity no assurance can be given for employment once the basic training has been completed.

The institute is a state-operated vocational-technical school. It also offers advanced training leading to a license as a deck or engineering specialist.

Each of these advanced programs total two years and includes on-the-job training (OJT) while trainees are employed aboard vessels of various companies.

The programs are Coast Guard approved, which results in shortening the time required to obtain a license as a mate or engineer.

The 1,365 hours of training at LaMPI and approximately one year of OJT is divided into phases with the trainee alternating between the school and OJT.

While on OJT the trainee earns the standard wage for the position he holds and completes assigned job tasks for his on-the-job training.

Applicants must be at least 16 years of age. A high school diploma is not required but the training program and Coast Guard licensing requirements and procedures require basic mathematics and reading ability.

The institute is part of Louisiana's vocational-technical school system and is tuition free to Louisiana residents. Non-residents are charged a modest non-resident fee.

Books and supplies must be purchased by the trainee who must also arrange living accommodations since the school does not presently have dormitories.

Financial assistance is available to veterans and also to persons who meet eligibility requirements for other financial aid programs.

As a state-operated institution, LaMPI follows a strict policy of non-discrimination for race, creed, sex, national origin or qualified handicap.

Persons desiring further information or applications for admission should write to Louisiana Marine and Petroleum Institute, Station 1, Box 10251, Houma, La. 70363.

Student from Bay is DECA candidate

The Pearl River College DECA Club will attend the state convention and state competition in Biloxi Feb. 28 to March 2.

Workshops will be held during the day for each aspect of the marketing field.

The club will be campaigning during this time for state president candidate Therese Ladner of Bay St. Louis and reporter candidate Kelly Smith of Picayune.

Students representing PRC in competition include Lisa Hall of Kiln.

With preparations almost completed for state competition, the PRC DECA is now beginning to plan fund-raisers to send DECA members to the national convention this summer in Kansas City, Mo.

United Gas Has Rolled Up Its Sleeves To Lower The Cost Of Natural Gas

Everyone knows that times are tough. Even though a recovery appears to be in sight, the effects of the recession are still with us.

And will be for a while.

We know that the cost of fuel for heating homes and fueling industry is more important than ever. And because a maze of regulations influence supply and transportation contracts, lowering the delivered cost of natural gas is not easy.

But we're working hard to do so because the cost of energy is of critical concern to home and industry.

So we've rolled up our sleeves. We've cut our budgets where appropriate, reduced our expenses while maintaining the safe and efficient operation of our natural gas system. We've lowered our delivered price for natural gas by exercising available options in gas purchase contracts, renegotiated some other contracts downward and negotiated more favorable terms in transportation agreements. We've reduced the level of our capital spending.

We've brought United Gas to a new high-level of strength and efficiency.

We know how important energy is to the continued well-being of home and industry. Natural gas is the most efficient fuel ever produced by man or nature. It is our objective to continue bringing this premium energy to you at the lowest possible cost, as we have worked to do for more than 50 years of service to the Gulf South.
